Leadership for the Common Good

TOOLS

UPDATE

for Congregational & Community Leadership

The Walker Leadership Institute at Eden continues its series of half-day workshops focused on challenges facing leaders of contemporary religious and community organizations. This coming year's offerings are new or enhanced versions of prior workshops covering the best management, financial, communications and organizational practices of leaders in mission driven organizations. Workshops are from 9–11:30AM, on the Eden campus and with lunch as an option. Individual workshops are $40. Participants enrolling by September 10th in all five workshops can receive a discounted rate of $150 for the series.

The five Tools Workshops for the 2018 – 2019 academic year are:

Saturday, September 15th
Self & Others:
practicing leadership in the age of networks, tribes and small groups

Thursday, November 15th Conflict & Collaboration:
working with organizational dynamics to increase impact

Saturday, January 12th
Inside & Out:
identifying and spreading your key message(s) with multiple audiences

Thursday, March 14th Space & Place:
using your building and location as assets for community ministry

Saturday, May 11th
Resources & Results:
funding, fund raising and financial accountability for supporting mission

NEW!

Missional Leadership Program

New this Fall the Walker Leadership Institute is offering a non-degree Certificate in Missional Leadership. The certificate covers the core elements of leadership and management as well as a cohort-based learning community. Upon the successful completion of six workshops the participants will receive the non-degree certificate.

Founded in 2016, the Walker Leadership Institute of Eden Theological Seminary develops and supports leaders for the Common Good.
